The One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Annual Report 1950-51.

THE Committee have pleasure in presenting the One Hundred and Fifty Eighth Annual Report and Statement of Accounts for the year ended 31st March, 1951.

The past year has been one during which the general trends of uncertainty, price increases, lowering of monetary values and the tension of the international situation have shown their effects on the work of the year. But in spite of these strenuous conditions, the Committee report with some degree of satisfaction, that the work of the Institution has progressed along the chosen paths of welfare of the blind. The continued support of the work by many friends, helpers and subscribers has enabled the Committees to further their efforts in the varied fields of activities on behalf of all age groups of blind persons.

It is with pleasure that the Committee report another year's work as agents of the Bristol City Council, and to a lesser degree on behalf of all other Local Authorities associated with this Institution through its services in educating, training and employing blind persons. In the work of the year, the several Committees have been greatly encouraged by the support and civic recognition granted in the very real interest shown by the Rt. Hon. The Lord Mayor of Bristol, the Lady Mayoress, the Sheriff and his Lady.

While the School, the Workshops and the Homes have received numerous visits from interested local organisations, visitors have also been welcomed from overseas as students, government representatives or as welfare workers visiting this country. Several visits by groups of Disablement Resettlement Officers from the Ministry of Labour are also to be recorded.

Committee.

It is with great regret that resignations were received during the year from Mr. C. H. Walker, Sir Lionel Goodenough Taylor, Mrs. Sambell, Mr. G. T. Bullock and Mr. J. E. Bullock. In their respective capacities each rendered special service to the Institution. The Committee wish to record their sincere thanks for the help given in Committee by their former colleagues. With the resignation of Mr. Walker the Institution lost its longest serving member of Committee. Since 1906 Mr. Walker has given invaluable service to the work for the blind in Bristol. He took an active part in all sections of the work during his long association with the Institution and contributed generously in time and expert advice to the work which saw the transformation from the early institution at the beginning of the century, to the modern school, training centres and workshops within the wider field of service of today's organisation.

The Committee were pleased to welcome new members in Mrs. Price, Mrs. Bradbeer, Mr. Selwood, Mr. Strachan and Mr. Hebblethwaite.

Finance.

In common with all similar organisations, the Institution has experienced a difficult year in matters of voluntary financial support of its work. While untiring efforts have been made in the collecting organisation, the general tightening of purse strings is reflected in the figures of the charitable income received. The Committee wish to record their thanks to Mr. H. Morgan Iles and the staff of the Bristol Fund for the Blind for their untiring efforts to obtain financial support for this local work within the Unification of Collections Scheme. Particular appreciation is expressed to the Bristol City and Cardiff City Football Clubs for the valuable support given to the Fund. The success of the Swimming Pool Appeal is reported with great satisfaction. Not the least gratifying feature of this effort has been the very active support given by present and past pupils of the School, and many other blind persons now associated with the work of the Institution.

The Committee again desire to draw most urgent attention to the need for all possible financial support through donations, subscriptions and legacies, if the work of this long established voluntary organisation is to continue to make its fullest voluntary contribution to the work for the blind. As the Committee have willingly accepted additional tasks and establishments to further the interests of blind persons, so have new burdens of maintenance and expenditure been undertaken. It is earnestly hoped that the work that lies ahead shall continue to be carried on with the leavening grace of voluntary effort through the strong support of all who are interested in the welfare of the blind.

School.

The work of the school has continued during the year and has aimed at giving to each pupil or trainee the widest benefits of education to prepare them for their future. The many activities of the school were carried through with gratifying support from the parents of many of the pupils. The gatherings on Parents' Day, Sports Day and Christmas Concerts bore evidence to the interest taken in the work of the School by a large body of friends.

The Opening of the Swimming Pool by the Lady Mayoress of Bristol saw the realisation of a much desired project. This additional amenity provided at the school is greatly enjoyed by the pupils of the school and other older blind persons of Bristol. The Committee wish to record their grateful thanks to all those who through subscriptions and donations have reached a figure of £4,762 towards a cost figure of £5,000.

A further red-letter event in the year's work was the broadcast of Community Hymn Singing by the School Choir. Many letters of appreciation were received following the broadcast.

The health of the pupils has been very good throughout the year and bears testimony to the work of the Matron, Miss Bennett, and her Staff, and to the ready treatment given by Dr. Ormerod, Dr. Cummings and Mr. Clifton, whose services are gratefully acknowledged.

The Committee again wish to thank all members of the School Staff for their efficient services during the year.

Workshops.

It is gratifying to be able to report a considerable increase in sales of the products of the Workshops. This has been achieved in spite of considerable increases in raw material costs and the restricting effects of Purchase Tax. Sales have had to be made against growing competition, so the work of the industrial section which has achieved the highest sales figure ever recorded, may be regarded as satisfactory. Greater support to the Workshops is of paramount importance, and the Committee appeal to all local businesses and industries to buy from the blind on every possible occasion. The goods so purchased will not only mean a satisfied customer—they will represent continued employment to blind workers. During a year that has brought considerable difficulties to trade, the Committee are pleased to report continuous full employment in all departments of the Workshops.

A further inspection was carried out by the Ministry of Labour in November.

The Committee are still working towards an extension of Workshops' premises and hope shortly to be able to put forward firm proposals for expanding trading activities.

The work of the staff and all employed in the Workshops is recorded by the Committee with sincere appreciation of the efforts made by each person to achieve such high results during a year in which the problems of employment and production have been as difficult as at any previous time.

Home Teaching.

Records for the year show that 9,018 visits were paid to blind men and women in their homes. During these visits 244 lessons in Braille, 110 lessons in Moon Type and 256 Handicraft lessons were given, while 753 visits to Deaf Blind persons were made. Additional to these personal visits and lessons, the Home Teachers were engaged on visits to the Homes for the Blind, weekly Social Centres, Deaf-Blind Socials, weekly Handicraft Classes, Annual Outings and communal holidays. These facts give some idea of the variety of services rendered to the blind people of Bristol by the Home Teaching service. The work organised by the Home Teaching Committee is essentially a personal and intimate service to the individual blind person, and is carried out day by day through the work of the Home Teachers.

Many and varied interests are made possible through this work which is further strengthened by the ready help of a large band of voluntary helpers. To all these the Committee wish to tender their sincere thanks. To the organisations so generously assisting in this social service to the blind by allowing the use of premises for social clubs, the Home Teachers and the Committee wish to offer their grateful appreciation.

The formation of a social club for blind persons employed in the Workshops or in open industry was readily supported by the Committee.

The Annual Show of the Bristol Guild of Blind Gardeners received excellent support, over 1,400 entries being received.

Home Workers.

Regular visits to blind men and women working in their homes in Gloucestershire, Somersetshire, Wiltshire, Dorset and Cornwall have been paid by the Home Workers staff. A total earnings figure of £12,447 emphasises the fact that this form of self-employment continues to be one of major importance in schemes for the employment of blind persons. With the recent decision of the Ministry of Labour to afford some grant assistance to Local Authorities, it is hoped that Home Workers Schemes will become even more beneficial to the trained man and woman who return to their own town or village to practice their craft on completion of training.

The 1950 Re-union was attended by a large number of Home Workers who again enjoyed to the full this opportunity of meeting many old friends.

Hostel.

It is again to be reported that the Hostel has provided very comfortable home accommodation to the residents, and now has a dual role of hostel for women trainees and employees, and Part III accommodation under the National Assistance Act for retired pensioners resident there.

The Committee, Staff and residents wish to record their grateful thanks to the friends and helpers who continue to support the Hostel through gifts, visits and interest.

Homes for the Blind.

The official Opening of the extension to the Home for the Blind, 2 The Glen, on March 9th, witnessed the virtual completion of the Homes project which commenced with the Homes Appeal in 1943. It is with profound gratitude that the Committee have realised the achievement of the effort to provide Homes accommodation for elderly blind persons in Bristol. Over 70 Homes places have now been provided at a cost of £365 per bed for capital expenditure including necessary structural alterations, renovations and full equipment for the Homes. The amount of £27,580 received in support of the Homes for the Blind Appeal represents an outstanding testimony to the citizens of Bristol and friends of the Institution in their response to the Appeal. Throughout the development of this work, the Committee have received the fullest support from the Local Authority, and desire to record their appreciation of the ready co-operation afforded by officers and members of the Bristol City Council. It is appropriate that the thanks of the Institution should also be recorded for the generous sympathy with which a sorely tried Housing Department deals with those cases of blind persons who require ordinary accommodation as distinct from Homes accommodation. The Committee trust that in the further development of housing estate plans, the requirements of elderly couples of whom one or both may be blind persons, will receive special consideration when flats or small house units become available.

The Homes now established owe their undoubted success to the untiring service of the staffs, the splendid voluntary service given by a large number of visitors, helpers, concert parties and church workers, to the co-ordinated work of the Home Teachers, and to the homeliness of residents themselves. The establishment of the Homes brought further responsibility to the Committee. But the achievements of the last eight years with their accompanying high service to a large number of past and present blind men and women as residents in the Homes for the Blind, far outweigh the problems of administration. Generous public support to the Committee's appeal has been translated into Homes capital which yields interest in the day to day happiness, comfort and security to the elderly blind persons resident in Pembroke Road, Downleaze and the Glen Homes.

The Committee cordially and gratefully express their hearty appreciation of the services rendered by the Officials and Staff. By example and enthusiasm they have inspired a splendid lead for the welfare of our blind friends in all departments of the Institution.

In the work of the past year, the statutory duties placed on Local Authorities have again been interpreted through the agency of the voluntary organisation of the Bristol Royal Blind Asylum. By bringing to its work the touch of personal service to the individual blind person, the Committee has continued to implement the aims of the founders of the Institution in 1793, "to teach and employ and improve the condition of blind persons, and to render them useful members of society."
